Dear Supply Partner,

Rolls-Royce is pleased to announce that an update will be made to the iValua platform in the near future. Whilst an exact date will be communicated in due course, it's expected this will be coming soon.

The initial update will cover Civil Operations and Defence Aerospace (including Naval Marine). While the iValua system will remain fundamentally the same, the introduction of this new version will enhance your experience and streamline key processes. The new updated tool will provide increased efficiency, compliance, and user satisfaction for both Rolls-Royce users and our suppliers, specifically in the areas of sourcing, contract management and supplier management.
