The Buyer will use reasonable endeavours to mitigate any such Losses.

10.2 The liability of the Buyer to the Supplier under or in connection with the Contract whether arising in tort (including negligence), breach of contract, breach of statutory duty or otherwise will, in aggregate, in respect of any claim, or series of connected claims arising out of the same cause, not exceed one hundred percent (100%) of the price payable by the Buyer for the Services and/or Deliverables, as set out in the Order.

10.3 For the purposes of this Clause 10.3, a 'Buyer customer' means any agency or division of the government of the United States of America which acquires goods and/or services directly or indirectly from Buyer or any Affiliate of Buyer which, in each case, incorporate or include the provision of the Deliverables. Without affecting any other term of the Contract the effect of which is to exclude or limit the liability of Buyer or any Affiliate of Buyer, Supplier acknowledges and agrees the following in relation to any Buyer customer:

If the Order is cancelled in whole the Contract will immediately terminate pursuant to this clause 11.4 and for any Order cancelled in part the Contract will remain in force in respect of such part of the Services and/or Deliverables that have not been cancelled pursuant to this clause 11.4.
- 11.5 In the event of cancellation pursuant to clause 11.4:
 - 11.5.1 in respect of Services, neither Party will have any other liability to the other in respect of such cancellation; and/or 12.2 The Buyer will usually give the Supplier reasonable written notice of its intention to exercise its rights under clause 12.1, however the Buyer retains, at its sole discretion, the right to conduct inspections without prior notice to the Supplier.

12.3 The Supplier will ensure that the Buyer is able to exercise all its rights set out in clause 12.1 and clause 12.2 against a subcontractor or supplier of the Supplier in connection with the Contract.

12.5 If the Buyer has reasonable grounds for believing the Supplier may be unable to perform its obligations under the Contract, the Buyer may require the Supplier to provide written evidence, to the Buyer's satisfaction, that the Supplier is able to fulfil its obligations under the Contract within thirty (30) days of the Buyer's request. If the Supplier fails to provide such evidence within thirty (30) days of the Buyer's request, the Buyer may treat that failure as a material breach and terminate the Contract in whole or part.

12.6 Without affecting clause 17.1.1(c), in the event that the Supplier, its Authorised Sub-contractor or any holding company, subsidiary or division of the Supplier performing under an Order comes under, or believes it is about to come under, the Control directly or indirectly of an entity who does not Control the Supplier at the Effective Date, then subject to confidentiality obligations imposed by Law, the Supplier will immediately notify the Buyer with full details of such an entity. In the event of such a termination: (i) the Buyer will, in full and final satisfaction of all claims arising out of such termination, pay the Supplier the price of all Deliverables and/or Service Outputs (as applicable) which the Supplier has justifiably produced and completed before the date of termination and for which the Buyer has not paid; and (ii) if it has not already done so, the Supplier will promptly deliver all Deliverables and/or Service Outputs (as applicable) produced and completed before the termination date to the Buyer or hold such Deliverables and/or Service Outputs as the Buyer's property.

12.7 Any inspections carried out by the Buyer, a Permitted User, a regulatory body or an independent third party in accordance with this clause 12 will not imply an acceptance of the Services or any waiver of the Supplier's obligations under the Contract.

12.8 The Supplier will, on request, promptly provide the Buyer with any point of origin certifications in relation to any Deliverable or part of any Deliverable.

13. SUBCONTRACTORS

- 18.11 Without prejudice to any other rights and remedies the Disclosing Party may have, the Receiving Party acknowledges and agrees that the Disclosing Party may be irreparably harmed and damages alone may not be an adequate remedy for breach (or attempted or threatened breach) of the provisions of this clause 9 by the Receiving Party. in writing from time to time. Without affecting any other term of the Contract that requires Supplier to procure that its Authorised Sub-contractors take an action, Supplier will procure that its Authorised Sub-contractors include in any relevant contract to which the Authorised Sub-contractor is a party a provision requiring the counterparty to flow down the government requirements to its suppliers. For these purposes, a 'relevant contract' means any contract between an Authorised Sub-contractor and its supplier which relates directly or indirectly to the Services and/or Deliverables.

20. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS

- 20.1 Subject to clause 20.2, neither Party will acquire any title, right or interest in or to any IPR belonging to or licensed to the other Party or developed by the other Party.

The Supplier hereby assigns, and will ensure that any third party creating Foreground IP on the Supplier's behalf assigns all Foreground IP to the Buyer with full title guarantee together with all Enforcement Rights, with effect immediately on creation of such Foreground IP, free from any Security Interest, and the Supplier will:
- 20.2.1 take all necessary actions, or will ensure that the necessary actions are taken, (including signing any documents) to ensure that such Foreground IP vests in full with the Buyer immediately on creation;
- 20.2.2 ensure that its and its suppliers' employees and contractors waive any moral rights in or relating to any works to which such Foreground IP relates and will on request provide the Buyer with written evidence of such waiver; and

The Buyer also grants the Supplier the right to grant sub-licenses to any Authorised Subcontractor subject to the Buyer's prior written consent.
- 20.5 The Supplier hereby grants to the Buyer a non-exclusive, royalty-free, transferable, perpetual, irrevocable, worldwide, freely sub-licensable licence to use any IPR owned by the Supplier or licensed to the Supplier on terms permitting the grant of this licence for the purpose of possessing, using, distributing, copying, exploiting, developing, repairing or selling the Deliverables and/or the Service Outputs. The Supplier will further procure for the Buyer a worldwide right to use and sell the Deliverables or Service Outputs equivalent in scope to the license granted to the Buyer, modify the Deliverables or Service Outputs to make them non-infringing, or have the Deliverables or Service Outputs replaced with substantially the equivalent non-infringing Deliverables or Service Outputs (as the case may be), provided that any modification or replacement of the Deliverables or Services Outputs will be subject to the approval of the Buyer, which will not be unreasonably withheld.

This clause 20.6 will not apply where the IPR Claim is the direct and unavoidable result of the Supplier using IPR that was provided to the Supplier by the Buyer or any Affiliate of the Buyer and that the Buyer required the Supplier to use in the performance of the Contract. The Supplier agrees to defend such claims brought against the Buyer provided that the Buyer: (i) promptly notifies the Supplier in writing of the filing of such claim or the threat thereof; (ii) permits the Supplier to control the defense or compromise of such claim of infringement, subject to the Buyer's consent, which will not be unreasonably withheld; and (iii) provides all reasonable assistance and cooperation requested by Supplier for the defense of such claim.
- 20.7 In addition to the indemnity set out at clause 20.6 above, if there is an IPR Claim or if the Buyer reasonably suspects that there will be an IPR Claim and notifies the Supplier in writing thereof, the Supplier will take all steps required by the Buyer to ensure that the Buyer can continue to use the Deliverables and/or Service Outputs without infringing a third party's IPR, which may include obtaining for the Buyer a worldwide, non-exclusive, royalty-free, irrevocable, sub-licensable and perpetual licence to possess, use, exploit, develop, sell or repair the Deliverables and/or Service Outputs (or any part thereof) (and in respect of Deliverables to manufacture or have manufactured the Deliverables) which are the subject of the IPR Claim or, at the Buyer's sole discretion, replacing such Deliverables and/or Service Outputs with a substantially equivalent non-infringing Deliverables or Service Outputs.

30.2 The rights of each Party may be exercised as often as needed, are cumulative and apply in addition to its rights under Law and may be waived only in writing and specifically. Not exercising, or a delay in exercising, any right is not (and will not be deemed to be) a waiver of that right.

30.3 If any provision of the Contract is or becomes illegal, invalid or unenforceable in any jurisdiction in relation to either Party, that will not invalidate the remaining provisions or affect the legality, validity or enforceability of that or any other provision in any other jurisdiction.

30.5 The Buyer may at any time make changes in writing relating to the Contract including changes to the Specifications, the method of shipment, quantities, packing or time or place of delivery or performance. Accordingly, the Buyer will be able to recover from the Supplier any Losses suffered by the Affiliate of the Buyer subject to there being no double recovery of the same Losses by the Affiliate of the Buyer.

30.7 The Buyer may perform any of its obligations and may exercise any of its rights under the Contract either itself or through an Affiliate.

30.11 The Parties each irrevocably and generally consent to the issue of any process or the giving of any relief in connection with any claim brought against it, including the making, enforcement or execution of any order or judgment against any of its property or assets (regardless of their use or intended use).

Each Party also irrevocably agrees not to claim any such immunity for itself or its property or assets.

30.13 The Contract constitutes the entire agreement between the Parties with respect to the Services and/or the Deliverables. Neither Party has placed any reliance on any representations made by the other Party before entering in to the Contract, whether orally or in writing, relating to the provision of the Services and/or supply of the Deliverables other than those expressly incorporated in or set out in the Contract, which has been negotiated on the basis that its provisions represent their entire agreement relating to the Services and/or the Deliverables and supersede all such representations. This clause 30.13 does not apply to any representation made fraudulently.

30.14 All rights and remedies exercisable by the Buyer in accordance with the Contract will, unless otherwise expressly specified in the Contract, be without prejudice to any other rights and remedies of the Buyer, whether contained in, or deriving from, the Contract or not.
